FOREWORD

We, the Senior Class of 1959, leave our memories, good times and events of our terminal year from W. H. S. in The Hour Glass for you to re-live with us.

CLASS ADVISORS

We, the Class of 1959, wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to our class advisors, Miss Mitchell and Mr. Ciano. Their leadership and helpfulness during the past two years have been deeply appreciated by the members of the class.

DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of 1959, were proud to have been the first class to enter into the new wing of Wilmington High School. All of us have had many happy events in that part of the building. We, therefore, dedicate The Hour Glass to the hard-working Building Committee, who did a fine job in planning our High School to be a safe and well constructed building.

JOHN J. COLLINS

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I wish the Class of 1959 full measure of happiness and success! You have been born to opportunity and in a short lifetime have seen more scientific advances than were apparent in the previous half century. Adapt yourselves to this marvelous era by further education and training. Set selfless goals that will bring you lasting joy.

Congratulations to you upon your graduation from High School. We trust that the lessons which you have learned during the past four years will make your future happy, prosperous, and successful. It is also our hope that as you reach adulthood, you will find the time and opportunity to serve your nation, state, and community as interested citizens. Further, that you serve both youth and the aged, that you may know the joys deprived from service to others, for the smallest good deed is better than the grandest good intention.

Bernard P. McMahon,
Principal

The greatest challenge facing you in the future is that of Communism. We of this generation should see to it that law and not vengeance becomes the means of settling issues between nations. To insure this, we must know what we are fighting. The best comparison I know of with regard to the American way and the Communist concept is expressed in the words of Ralph Barton Perry:- "The institutions and purposes of the Communist Powers are the precise opposite of ours. Where we say liberty, they say unquestioned obedience; where we say equality, they say arrogance and privilege; where we say government by consent, they say dictatorship; where we say law, they say personal and arbitrary authority; where we say truth, they say artful and lying propaganda; where we say worship of God, they say worship of race, ruler of party leader; where we say humanity, they say conquest and implacable cruelty; where we say right, they say might." Hence live side by side.

The tyrants are on the march, but liberty too is on the march, and we need not fear the outcome because tyranny is of man;- freedom is immortal!

SENIOR CLASS DANCES

WILMINGTON BAND STAND

The class of 1959 presented its first dance on October 30, 1958. The many students who attended the dance made it a great success. The co-chairmen of the dance were Sandra Enos and Joanne Page. Dick Clarkwell, portrayed by David Hartwell, was the disc jockey.

"MARDI GRAS"

The last dance presented by the Senior class was the festive "Mardi Gras". Some students who attended the dance were chosen to represent Wilmington High School on Bob Clayton's telecast "Boston-Ballroom". The co-chairmen of the dance were Brian Phillips and Ann Sullivan.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR

The annual Junior-Senior Prom, "Aquatasia", was held May 15, 1959 in the Coral Cove. With an underwater theme, the decorations consisted of colorful fish, mermaids, and various marine life.

The co-chairmen of the decorating committee were Thomas Fuller and Edward Curtis.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

During the football season The National Honor Society sponsored Dances.
New members were elected in April, and pins were given to Senior members.

The members of the society were: Pat Hamilton, George Munroe, Linwood Kemp, Margaret Shelley, Polly Smith, Donna May, Carole Giglio, Wilma Jones, Edward Curtis, Thomas Del Visco, Doris Eifler, Joan Dukus, John Tobey, Carol Grey, Judy MacMelville, Albert Penny, Sheila Talbert, Frank Whitney, Diane Gouvea, Eileen Lepore, Carol Randell, Judith Cutter, Warren Layne, Sandra Parrella, Phillis Sexton, Ruth Urbonas, Alice White, and Jeanne Wood.

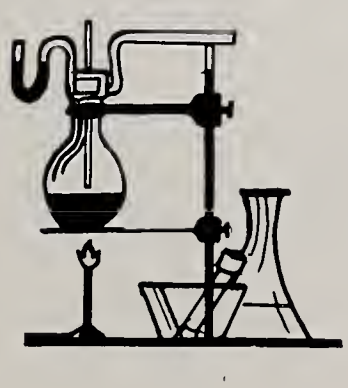
The club officers are: Pres. David Hartwell, Vice Pres. Polly Smith, Sec. Ann Sullivan, and Treas. Robert Kerr. The advisor is Miss Elizabeth Wilson.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club, under the direction of Mr. Robinson, has acquired a permanent station in the Electrical Shop. The Club was able to acquire a license for technician, general, and novice operators.

SCIENCE CLUB

The activities of the Science Club this year included the showing of scientific films and the demonstration of scientific experiments. On March 10th, a Science Fair was held at the school, and Roger Luken won first prize for his cyclotron. It was the first cyclotron ever entered in a Wilmington Science Fair. The advisor of the Science Club is Mr. Sullivan.



STUDENT COUNCIL

The Wilmington High School Student Council held its first meeting December 16, 1959. The following pupils were elected to the council.

President ..... Earl Hubbard (Senior)
Vice President ..... Charles Sweet (Junior)
Secretary ..... Joan Marshall (Junior)
Treasurer ..... Sandra Jensen (Senior)

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Chapel Choir, under the supervision of Miss Lorraine Kalil, was called to sing at the Christmas assembly. Their fine music was deeply appreciated by all who had the pleasure of listening to them.

Both Senior and Eighth Grade Graduations were highlighted by the outstanding performance of this group.

SPORTS

The Football Cheerleaders under the direction of Genie Emery and Judy Lewis, Co-captains, cheered long and lustily for the Blue and White. Creditable performances were given at all games. They included: Beth Byam, Jeanne Marshall, Senior members; Annette Visconti, Joan Marshall, Joanne Hancock, Carol Randell, Junior members; and Joan Butt, Dorothy DeGrasse, Judy Condrey, Sophomore members. Alternates were: Bonnie Hooper, Senior; Eileen Cotter, Junior; and Barbara Lynch, Sophomore.

BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS

The Basketball Cheerleaders were divided into two groups under the direction of co-captains Bonnie Hooper and Mercedes Strow.

The spirit and enthusiasm illustrated by the cheerleaders undoubtedly added to the success of the team and was even more evident at the Tech Tourney.

FIELD HOCKEY TEAM

The Field Hockey Team participated in an outstanding season under the direction of Miss Alice McCarthy. The Varsity team won four games, tied three, and lost only one.

The members of the varsity team are: Capt. Judy Rosselli, Gertrude Cushing, Carole Crispo, Loretta Dawson, Judy Iverson, Janice Kimball, Pat Manuel, Mary Quandt, Ann Sullivan, Elaine Sullivan, and Ruth Sullivan.

The members of the J. V. Team are; Nancy Cutter, Barbara Gurski, Lenora Janerico, Marlene Kimball, Marilyn McKay, and Susan Whitney.

SOFTBALL TEAM

Under the able coaching of Miss McCarthy, the Girls' Softball team participated in a successful season.

The members of the team are: Captain—Nancy Bennett, Gertrude Cushing, Sandra Enos, Judith Rosselli, Marion Dawson, Marion Kelley, Doris Lemire, Lorraine Doyle, Ann Humphrey, Carol Randell, Carole Rice, Elaine Sullivan, Carole Crispo, Lorretta Dawson, Marion Halpin, Janice Kimball, and Celia Spear; Also, Mercy Strow, Gloria Epstein, Annabell Hastings, Elaine Hersom, Ellen Latta, Frances Simmes, Charlene Sullivan, Joyce Randell, Nancy Slater, and manager Anne Crispo.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The W.H.S. Basketball Team, under the direction of Miss McCarthy, conducted a successful season of eight wins and four losses which tied them in second place with Billerica. The team was represented in the annual Suburban League All Star Game by Co-Captains, Pudgy Cushing and Judy Rosselli.

BASEBALL TEAM

The 1959 baseball season was coached by Mr. Gilligan and Mr. Pacino who have molded the team into a successful athletic group.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Wilmington's basketball team under the coaching of Mr. Bellisimo and Mr. Gilligan hand the most outstanding record in the history of the school. They tied Billerica for second place.

The team lost only three games this season—twice to North Andover and once to Billerica.

Captain Winston Fairfield scored 50 points in one game and 15 foul shots in another. His Senior year totaled 558 points, and during his high school career he accumulated over one thousand points which are listed as league records.

The team represented Wilmington for the first time at the Tech Tourney. They defeated Dighton, and they lost an exciting game to Wareham.

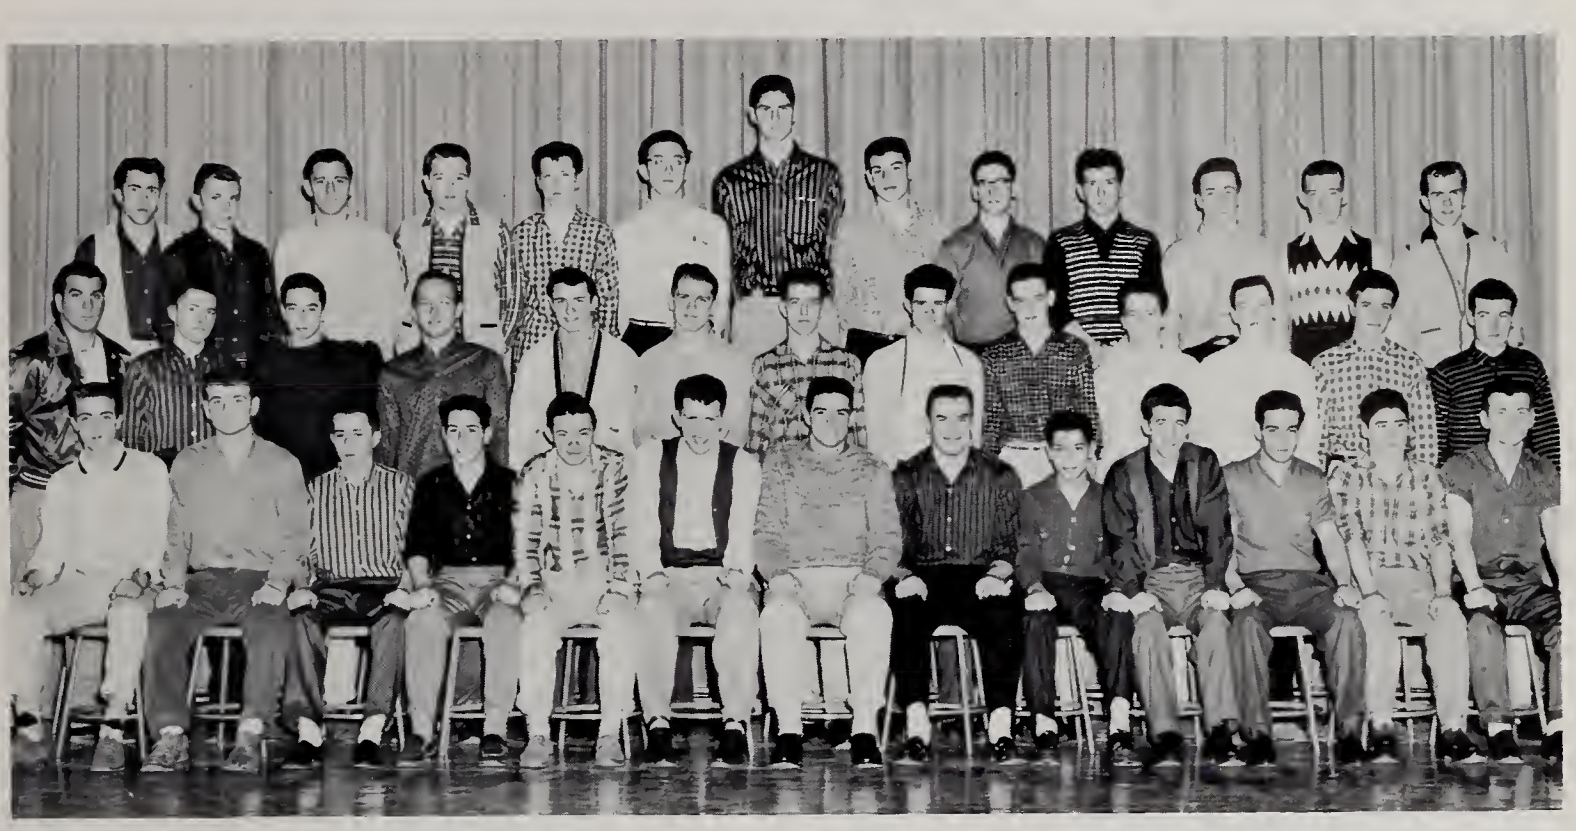
TRACK TEAM

Under the skillful coaching of Mr. Kelley and his assistant, Mr. Sullivan, the track team gave a fine account of themselves in every meet in which they participated.

Co-captains Winston Fairfield and Linwood Kemp worked hard at their assignments and set a good example for the underclassmen to follow.

This was the second year that the school has had a track team, and it is now a firmly established sport. Many of the students are making excellent use of the fine track facilities which are offered them.

FOOTBALL TEAM



The Wilmington Wildcats with the coaching of Mr. Bellissimo and Mr. Ritchie roared through a season which clearly illustrated the team's spirit and willingness of good sportsmanship.

The final tally for the season was three wins, five losses, and one tie.

GRADUATION

Graduation was held in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium on June 4, 1959. Awards were granted to the outstanding students in fields of education, science, athletics, and fine arts.

The Chapel Choir and School Band supplemented the exercises with musical renditions.

Mr. Bernard McMahon, Principal, and Mr. Harold Driscoll, Assistant Principal, aided Mr. Edward Page, Chairman of the School Committee, in conferring diplomas to the graduates.

VALEDICTORY

Tonight is a time to which all of us have looked forward with mixed emotions. At this moment we are not so much concerned for the future, for most of us are fairly certain of the near future; not of the past, for it is now too late to do anything about that! The Seniors who are graduating here tonight cannot help but think of the excitement of this moment. Still, perhaps it is well that we take a look once more at what we have accomplished in our four years here, at Wilmington High, before we step out into the new experiences which face us.

In the life of the greatest Man who ever lived we are told practically nothing of His life as a teenager, of the temptations He met, the struggle He overcame, and the lessons He learned during that time. Yet, still we are given one fact: the Bible tells us that as a youth our Lord "increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and Man." Now, as we look back upon the years in which we suddenly discovered that we were no longer children but had begun our transition into young adulthood, we begin to realize that our parents and teachers have been endeavoring to promote and instill in us these very same four qualities: wisdom, physical fitness, social confidence, and spiritual understanding.

The first of these, wisdom, or knowledge, is, of course, the foremost objective of the schools. Since the very first day we timidly entered the first grade, we have learned to read, and to read with comprehension; we have learned to speak and write well and to express ourselves intelligently by means of both the spoken and written word. In the first eight grades we learned the fundamentals; then as we entered high school we began to "specialize", we began training ourselves in the subjects which would prepare us for, or in some cases influence, our life's work. Those in the commercial course, for instance, majoring in business English, shorthand, typing, or accounting will be the ones who keep our great businesses efficient and in touch with the rest of the world. Those in the Technical course will become our engineers and draftsmen. Those in the college courses will become our scientists and mathematicians, our professional men, linguists, and teachers.

You see, it is in high school that the foundation is laid for the future. It is in these four years that we decide at least the area of our life's work. And the quality of our schoolwork during this time decides our efficiency and our chances for success.

Another important part of the scholastic curriculum is physical education. Through the gym classes, a physical fitness program has been established to augment our mental training. We have also been pleased with the excellent extra-curricular sports program at Wilmington High, in which many of us have had the privilege of taking part as either players or spectators. Physical fitness is equally important as mental training, for the strength of a nation is partly determined by the health of its people.

Intertwined between this work and play, as an integral part of the life of a teenager, is the third side of the picture, social development. It is during the four years of high school that a young person begins to understand not only himself but others as well. He learns the importance of cooperation and tactfulness. He learns to apply the rules of etiquette at both social gatherings and informal encounters. Some of the friendship he has made will carry on into the future. The dates, and other boy-girl relationships, are going to influence his or her choice of a life partner. Social development may take place in the class room, over the telephone, on the ball field, or across a banquet table, but no matter what the occasion, you can be certain that the school has played an important part in guiding and instructing the student to a better understanding of his relationship to the rest of the world.

And, finally, the teenager's experiences during these four years have helped to firmly establish in his mind a philosophy of life. The attitude which a person develops toward life affects his usefulness to the rest of socity. It is important, therefore, that the school encourage children and young people to a practical and purposeful spiritual understanding. Religion should not be just a once-a-week experience, but a faith upon which one can rest confidently throughout life. Our representative democracy is based on spiritual precepts; therefore our country needs young people with strong moral character to bind together the other three qualities of wisdom, stature and social grace. These three factors can exist by themselves, but it is spiritual understanding which gives them meaning. While religious training is chiefly the responsibility of the home, we should be thankful for the co-operation given by our schools.

Yes, those are the four facets of life: knowledge, physical fitness, social confidence, and spiritual undrstanding. Our parents and teachers have patiently guided, directed, taught and counselled us in the development of these four qualities so that now we might be confidently assured of a bright future.

CLASS HISTORY

As we complete our four years of high school, we think it would be proper to write a history of the class to bring back pleasant memories in future years.

New doors were open to the class of 1959 when we entered Wilmington High School four years ago, in September, 1955. We were the first class to start as Freshmen in the new wing (now the center wing). Everything seemed strange and exciting to us at first, but shortly we became accustomed to the new building and strange surroundings.

To help start us out on the right foot, Mrs. Trearchis and Mr. Keady were our class advisors. With the help of our advisors, we drew up our constitution at the first class meeting.

As Freshman class officers, we elected Wilma Jones, President; William Rooney, Vice-President; Beth Byam, Secretary; and Genie Emery, Treasurer. Our Student Council representatives were Nancy Bennett, Conrad LaCreta, Nicholas DeFelice, George Munroe, and Evelyn Shepherd.

High school was something new to us. We soon learned of the many activities afforded us. Many of us joined clubs, such as the Dramatics Club, the Foreign Language Club, and the Glee Club.

In our Freshmen year, we lost an outstanding member of our class, Grace Sutton, to our neighbor and rival town, Tewksbury. We could have used Grace in our graduation line up as a good partner for Winnie.

Another member of our class, Larry MacDonald, also moved. Many rock 'n' rollers of the class will remember him as a singer in the group called "The Nightrockers".

After what seemed to be a short summer vacation, we returned to school to begin our Sophomore year. We were a little more confident that year than we had been the year before; and even though we were still underclassmen ourselves, there remained the underclassmen to tease.

One of the highlights of our Sophomore year was our first class dance, the Winter Wonderland Ball, which was held in December. It proved to be a humorous, as well as, successful dance. I am sure everyone who attended the dance will remember when Santa Claus (Earl Hubbard) brought the big present wrapped in the brown paper bag (Marie Reynolds). A great aid to the success of the dance, other than the members of the committee, were our class advisors, Miss Sharp and Mr. James Kelley.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year, we again elected class officers. Serving as President was Wilma Jones, which only goes to prove that girls can be good Presidents, as this was the second time she was elected. Also, there were more boys voting than there were girls. Her assistants were Jeanne Marshall, Vice-President; Beth Byam, Secretary; and Genie Emery, Treasurer. Student Council representatives for the year were Nancy Bennett, Earl Hubbard, George Munroe, Joseph Deegan, and Ann Sullivan.

It seemed that each year our class began to get smaller, as most classes do through the four years. In our Sophomore year, Evelyn Shepherd moved to Warren, Massachusetts and Billy Colgate to New Hampshire; and a few of the boys joined the armed forces. Nicky DeFelice joined the Marines; Bobby VonEtte, the Navy; Carl Sarica, the Air Force; Franny Molway, the Army, Bobby Rankin, the Marines; and Bobby Allen, the Army.

As Jerry Wallace would sing, "How The Time Flys". It surely did because before we knew it, we were Juniors.

Shortly after school started, our class was called down to the auditorium for the first class meeting of the year. We were introduced to our class advisors, Miss Mitchell and Mr. Ciano, and we were given an idea of what our Junior year would be like. Class meetings were usually held once a month, and a coke and chip party was held after each meeting in the Home Economics room.

As every class needs officers, we soon elected ours. There was a change this year; for Kenneth Quast was elected President, which was the first time our class had a boy president. Judy Lewis was Vice-President; Genie Emery, treasurer; (for the third time) and Beth Byam, Secretary (also, for the third time). Representing us on the Student Council were Patricia Hamilton, Sandra Jensen, Ann Sullivan, and Earl Hubbard, Vice-President of the Council.

The Class of '59 was well represented on the football team during our Junior year, and the team enjoyed its most successful season since the 1948 undefeated team. We won five games and lost three. Probably the most important achievement of the season was our 21-14 win over Tewksbury, Thanksgiving morning.

Our first Junior dance, Sputnik Fling, with Jeanne Marshall as chairman, was a dance that we learned of the singing and song writing talents of some of the members of our class. Wildcat Walk, with Hugh McCormack as chairman, was held in the spring with Bob Clayton of WHDH as disc jockey. Many students were chosen at this dance by Bob Clayton to dance on his Saturday night show, Boston Ballroom in May.

Our Junior year was far from dull; for we will always remember hearing the officers of the Junior class and Brian Phillips over WHDH radio when they were chosen to present the record poll of W.H.S. over the air.

Another popular event of the year was a Splash Party held at the M.I.T. pool under the chairmanship of Barbara Rugoletti.

Bonnie Hooper was head of the ring committee. In December, we gave our orders for class rings, with a choice of white, blue, and rainbow.

The most popular event of the year was fast approaching, and on May 16, 1958, the Junior-Senior Prom, Shangri-La, was held. For this affair, the gym, called Oriental Gardens. was gaily decorated in true, oriental fashion. Billy Fay and Jackie Ashworth of the class of 1958 were chosen as king and queen, with Dorothy MacDonald, Sonja Myrsted, Pollyanna Smith, and Joanne Page as attendants.

After our last summer vacation, we returned to school. This year we were happy about returning because it was the year most of us had been waiting for—the year we were to be Seniors. For many of us, it meant that we had reached the height of our schooling; and for others, it meant the last year to prepare for college.

For the fourth and final time, we elected class officers. Neill McCormack was President; Genie Emery, Vice-President; Beth Byam, Treasurer; and Judy Lewis, Secretary. Serving on Student Council were Joe Kane, Pat Hamilton, Ann Sullivan, Sandra Jensen, and Earl Hubbard, President of the Council.

We were happy to learn that Miss Mitchell and Mr. Ciano were going to be our class advisors again; for they have done a great deal for our class in the two years that they were our advisors.

"Wilmington Bandstand" was the name of our first Senior dance, which was held in October. The second one, "Mardi Gras" was held in March. At "Mardi Gras", the boys and girls were chosen to go on Boston Ballroom in May. Both dances were very successful.

An affair that proved to be successful by all who attended was the skating party at the Lynn Arena.

"On Borrowed Time", our Senior play, was produced from a Broadway show. For the first time, underclassmen were auditioned. The play proved to be a financial and social success. Earl Hubbard and Barbara Rugoletti were transformed from teen-agers to sixty year old grandparents.

Aquatasia, the Junior-Senior Prom, under the direction of Tommy Fuller, was held in Coral Cove on May 15, 1959. The main theme was an underwater scene featuring sunken treasure, mermaids, and fish. James Day and Joanne Page reigned as king and queen with Carole Giglio, Priscilla Cutter, Arlene Boudreau, and Ruth Ubonis as attendants.

After all the excitement of the prom, the Seniors quieted down to normal, with the exception of Wilma Jones trying to get the yearbook ready to go to press and George Munroe leading the graduation rehearsals. A few days before the end of school, the Seniors observed a moment of silence and thankfulness when Gus Sola finally paid his class dues.

Now that we have graduated, the Class of 1959 would like to thank the parents, teachers, advisors, and everyone who made it possible for us to leave Wilmington High School equipped with social and academic knowledge and continue to function as more useful citizens.

CLASS PROPHECY

I probably wouldn't have even thought of returning to Wilmington last week if it had not been for a chance meeting I had with a vaguely remembered classmate this winter. I was in Nassau for a vacation and decided to stay at the DUFFINA Hotel. When I arrived I was very surprised to learn that this was the same RAY DUFFINA who had graduated with me. While in Nassau I also came across SANDRA ENOS, BONNIE HOOPER, JUDY ROSSELLI, NANCY BENNETT, and BARBARA RUGOLETTI who were on vacation.

I started to think a great deal about my old friends, and I finally decided to come to Wilmington this summer. Two weeks ago I made reservations by phone for a flight to Wilmington. Incidentally, BETTY ALEXANDER was the telephone operator. POLLY SMITH, the reservationist, assured me I would receive my tickets on time.

When I boarded the plane, I was happily surprised to see MARION DAWSON standing at the door. She was the stewardess on the plane ,and NEILL McCORMACK was the steward. I later learned that DANNY TAUTGES was along as pilot.

I was elated when we arrived at the Wilmington Airport. TOMMY MacKAY, ROBERT ANDERSON, and TOMMY FULLER had decided to build it only five years ago. With the help of EDDIE VAN STEENSBURG'S Construction Company they were able to realize their plans. Speaking of plans, JOSEPH KANE'S Blueprinting Company drew up the plans for the airport buildings.

I had called JUDY GRAHAM earlier and told her I was coming, so I hailed a cab to take me to her house. When I got in the cab whom did I see but BUTCH McFEETERS. He said that he had gone into the taxi business with FRANK WHITNEY. I told him I was in town to visit as many of my classmates as possible. He said it was too bad they hadn't known, because WINSTON FAIRFIELD was in California on a business trip, CAROLE GIGLIO was on her honeymoon, and JOANNE PAGE and ANN SULLIVAN were on a vacation in Texas.

BUTCH thought I would be staying at the ROONEY Hotel which BILLY had opened recently. As he described the thirty-story building, I almost wished I was staying there. He started by telling me about the enormous crescent-shaped pool ROBERT ANNAIAN'S Pool Company had built. They had even hired BRIAN PHILLIPS, the famous artist, and his assistant, DOTTIE PIKE, to paint a beautiful mural inside the pool. The hotel had hired RONNIE ZWICKER'S Band as their permanent entertainment. Several of my classmates, including ALBERT PENNY, GUS SOLA, BILLY O'KEEFE, RICHARD LENA, and ROGER METCALFE are members of the band. GENIE EMERY supplies the vocal entertainment for the lucky patrons.

I told BUTCH, however, that I had previously made plans to stay at JUDY'S house and we finally started on our way. As we drove along I noticed HENRY INGEMI directing traffic, and I received a big wave from REGINA KLEMENTS who was walking her baby down the street.

BUTCH offered to give me a tour of the city on my way and I happily accepted. He drove my by the police station and we saw BILLY ETHIER and EARL HUBBARD who were just going on duty. A little further on we came to the fire station where ALAN EDDY is now the fire chief.

Suddenly my escort's face lit up and I knew he had had an intriguing idea. He suggested we drive through the new housing project.

When we arrived, I was stunned by its b e a u t y. T h e landscapers, CONRAD LaCRETA and FRANCIS MARR, received nation-wide acclaim for this job. The majority of the couples in the project belong to the Young Couples Club. I later learned that the HUGH McCORMACK'S, JOAN McCABE and her husband, GEORGETTE CRISPO and her mate, the ROBERT MORSE'S, and the TEDDY CHIRICOS'S are all members of this club. The men in the neighborhood are especially proud of their bowling team. The organizer of the club was GEORGE MUNROE who is the U. S. Champion bowler. PAUL BURKE, HARRY SAWYER, ROBERT McCABE, DANNY BEMIS and RICHARD COLE are also members of the club.

While driving along, BUTCH pointed out PAT HAMILTON'S beautiful ranch house and SANDRA JENSEN'S cute Cape. We stopped to talk to CAROL MATTHEWS, who was walking her latest set of twins. She told me the Young Couples Club was having a big dance, and she suggested I go. I asked her if I would know anyone there. and she told me JO ANN JANERICO, JUDY LUKEN, JUDY ROGERS, MARJORIE REARDON, and MARION KELLEY were a few of the people I would know. I happily accepted the invitation and made plans to have her pick me up in the evening.

We arrived at the dance just in time to participate in the Grand March which was being led by JUDY LEWIS. The jolly emcee, JOE DEEGAN, was calling out the directions.

The March was followed by a dance contest which PAT LANGIS and JOE CASEY won. To entertain the ladies (and also the men), a fashion show was presented. As the models filed out, I quickly recognized ALICE BLACKBURN. WILMA JONES. LORRAINE BLOCK, JEANNE MARSHALL, and BETH BYAM, who hadn't changed a bit.

The next day JUDY and I made a tour of all the businesses and industries in the city. As we were driving along, I mentioned that Steven's Supermarket had really expanded. JUDY informed me that BRIAN TALBERT and RICHARD McLAUGHLIN were now the owners of the business, and that they had hired DONALD WEED as their manager.

Our first stop was National Polychemicals, Inc. It was quite a surprise to learn that DAVID HARTWELL had worked his way up and is now President of the company. Also working there are PEGGY MORAN, JOYCE ARBO, PRISCILLA CUTTER, and ELEANOR SHAW. I decided I would like to go to Avco next, and I saw many old friends. We were greeted at the door by ANN SHEERIN, the receptionist. She told me LINWOOD KEMP, head of the rocket research program, and his assistant, KENNETH SMITH, were in Washington for a conference. We did see, however, KENNETH BUDD, GERALD PUPA, EDDIE CUOCO, and DAVID O'BRIEN who are technical experts. I passed GENE COSTE in the hall. He was on his way to nurse KAREN WALDEN with a cut finger. I heard familiar voices coming my way, and a moment later SANDRA HIGGINS, THELMA DIAS, and PAT GATTA came around the corner. They told me that they all hold secretarial positions. It was getting late, so we decided to move on to Raffi & Swanson's. On our way we passed PAT KENNEDY'S Dress Shop, PUDGE CUSHING'S Luncheonette, and IVA BEDELL'S Insurance Agency. JUDY mentioned that MARGARET SHELLEY owns an interest in the insurance agency. There were four classmates working at Raffi's—NORA LETELLIER, MARIE REYNOLDS, MARY McCORMACK, and BEVERLY SIDELINKER.

That evening I received a call that made it necessary for me to return home at once. Back on the plane once more, I realized I had missed only four people. I had been told that the four — DOROTHY MacKENZIE. LAWRENCE CHISHOLM, LAWRENCE VonKAHLE, and CAROL CUSHING—work at City Hall; the only stop I had failed to make.

I had such a wonderful time during my hectic two-day visit that I want to return soon. I am sure I will be able to see everyone at that time.

CLASS ESSAY

We, the class of 1959, are now about to leave our familiar surroundings, the life of school work and play, the schoolmates we have known and loved and all that has been our main stem of life for so many years. Tomorrow we will be adults living in an adult world. We have been sheltered and cared for, but we will go forth to put into practice our ideals and our faith in humanity. Our teachers and our parents have prepared us for our life ahead. Very soon we shall see if we have listened carefully to our instructions; if we have put to use the good things we have been taught; and if the world will be a little better place because of each one of us.

In Tennyson's poem, "Ulysses", he says, "Come, my friends, 'Tis not too late to seek a newer world." Is Ulysses really looking for a newer world, or is he merely seeking a better one? We are all future builders of our country; and it is up to us, and us alone, to help keep America free and strong. Some of us will become secretaries; some will be married in a very short time; others will be doctors, or lawyers, or clergymen. Tomorrow we will be entering a new and challenging world.

Our goal is success. Mr. Webster defines the word success as "the prosperous termination of any enterprise; prosperity."

There are many kinds of success, not just a financial gain. Other things must be considered, such as happiness, a goal to attain, and love of your neighbor.

Happiness is not something that one works for and obtains. It is a state of mind that can come to each of us by knowing that we are living our lives to the fullest extent and being true to ourselves. Money won't bring happiness, but the way we use it can.

In each one of us is born a desire to achieve a goal. A goal is a form of hope, and without that hope life is futile and barren. Some reach their goal; others never do, but if we wish to be successful, happy citizens in this great land of ours, let us aim for a goal and try with our utmost strength and faith to reach it.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself"—Duet. 5. There is created in each one of us an innate love of others and oneself which is quite natural. But we must remember "to do unto others as you would have them do unto you." In order to gain happiness, we must find something in every human being to love and respect. A person may not be liked by many people; but you can find something, even if it is very tiny, that is good in him. There is some good in everyone. He must love to be happy; he must love his fellow man to be aware of his goal in life.

And so tomorrow, as we go forth to reach our goal, by striving for success and happiness and a love of humanity with God's help we shall strive to support a "newer" and better world.
